AFTER SCHOOL CLUB ORGANIZED

Officers Elected Yesterday Afternoon.

Is Movement To Bring Mothers and Teachers Together In Work of Preparing Children For More Serious Duties of Life—One of Most Important Movements of the Age—Some of Its Features.

Notwithstanding the fact that this is the busiest season of the year, yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Home and School Council showed that earnest, interested mothers will let other matters go to attend a meeting that promises practical help in the solving of problems relating to the welfare of their own offspring. And as the great unit of effort in the After School Club work is the individual home—not your neighbor's home and children, but your own—the mothers responded heartily to this call for a united, organized working body, in which the teachers and mothers co-operate for the uplift of the child. The educational department of the man's Club was also represented at the meeting. Mrs. R. C. Hood acted as chairman, and the following officers were elected:

Mrs. J. R. McClamroch, president; Mrs. A. M. Scales, first vice president; Mrs. W. I. Underwood, second vice president; Miss Frances Sutton, treasurer; Miss Meta Eloise Beall, secretary.

This home and school association work, the underlying principle of which is the consciously bringing together into closer and more intelligent relationship the home and school, stands today as a citizens' movement. One great minister of this country said that if he could not preach he would teach little children, because the next thing to giving the message of the Christ to the world was to teach children to become useful citizen of their country and benefactors of a race.

The movement grew out of and is affiliated with the National Congress of Mothers and the National Educational Association. There are about forty affiliated organizations, among them being the American Civic Association, the National Bureau of Education; the Russell Sage Foundation, Department of Child Hygiene; the Southern Association of College Women.

The After School Club of America is composed of able educators and experts in child training for counsel with mothers and teachers.. Parents have not heretofore had advantages offered by those schools and colleges which maintain departments for the training of teachers for the most important work of making men and women. It is one of the wisest and most potent movements of the age. The teachers have spent and continue to spend years in learning how to teach the children who come under their care and instruction every day, but the questions have been, "what about the child after school hours?" "How can we best get the sympathy and help of the mother?" This association answers the question: By acquainting the mother with our plans and gaining her co-operation, and by exchanging views with her as to the best methods of rearing and training children.

Children like comradeship—must have it, indeed; and they like to have attention from persons whom they conceive to be their friends. So the child is given the use of a library—one that he can feel is his very own; and he receives letters from a real comrade on subjects that interest him.

Honorable Ellsworth Brown, Commissioner of Education at Washington, D. C., in a letter to the After School Club, of America, says:

"—— I should think such an organization might be made to serve a variety of useful purposes. The one that occurs to me most prominently just now is that of serving as a go-between, taking the findings of specialists in matters relating to home education, books and reading, the rearing and training of children, and getting this information into the homes, where it can be made of actual immediate use.

"You are in a position to try out a good many different plans and hold to the ones that work best, while letting the others drop. Such experimentation can be made extremely valuable. If it is done on large enough scale, with the help of sufficiently expert investigators and promoters, there would seem to be no end to the good that it might do. And this seems to be exactly the program upon which you [illegible]

One of the most hopeful signs, as well as one significant of the need that has so long been felt; is the hearty and earnest response to the call of the local clubs.

Greensboro is noted far for its culture, its morality, but best of all, it shall be known for its women who are willing to lay aside any minor care when is heard the call of little children.

WILL GIVE UP FLYING AND WED

Count De Lesseps Says Tarpon Fishing Is Exciting Enough.

New York, Dec. 15.—Admitting that he has given up aviation for matrimony County Jacques de Lesseps, the well known French aviator, arrived here today from Toronto and registered at the Hotel Belmont. Tomorrow he will depart on the French Line steamer Lorraine, going to Paris, where he will remain until the time for his wedding to Miss Grace MacKenzie, the Toronto heiress, in London some time in January. Miss MacKenzie leaves for England tomorrow from Halifax, taking passage on the steamer Prince George.

Count de Lesseps has just completed an extensive tour of the South, Southwest and of Mexico, and after enjoying tarpon fishing in Tampico declared that catching the monster fish excelled aviation as an exciting sport. His biggest tarpon catch was a fish 6 feet long, weighing 175 pounds. The count said today that it took him an hour and a half to land this tarpon.

The Frenchman was enthusiastic about Mexico. He traveled the whole length of that country in a private car and declared the scenery was magnificent, combining many of the best points of Switzerland and other foreign nations famed for their natural beauties.

GIVES A LUNCHEON FOR MISS CORDYE WEATHERLY

Miss Mary Fry, at the home of her parents on North Elm street, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock gave a beautifully appointed luncheon in honor of Miss Cordye Weatherly, who is to be married soon. The list of guests was confined to the members of the bridal party.

Very novel favors were provided in the form of papier mache suit cases tied with white ribbon bows and filled with rice. The place cards were heart-shaped.

At the close of the luncheon toasts to the bride-elect were quaffed from miniature steins, each of the participants taking a stein away as a souvenir.

To Install Mr. McIlwaine.

Rev. Melton Clark, chairman, and members of a delegation from Orange Presbytery, left yesterday for Asheboro, where Rev. W. B. McIlwaine, Jr., will be installed as pastor of the Presbyterian church at that place.

The sermon will be delivered by Dr. Neil Anderson, of Winston, and the charge, by Rev. W. T. Thompson, of Lexington. Mr. McIlwaine is to be installed at a later date as pastor of the Thomasville Presbyterian church.

The stewards of the Greensboro District of the M. E. church have been called to meet at West Market Street Methodist church this morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of mapping out the work for the year and to fix the salary of the presiding elder. GRAND LODGE OF MASONS TO MEET

Annual Session to be Held January 10.

Report of Secretary Drewry Will Show Gratifying Progress During Year—Rev. T. W. O'Kelly Called to Raleigh Baptist Church—Hearing In Case of City Vs. Standard Oil Company In Progress—A Requisition.

Raleigh, Dec. 15.—Grand Master Hackett of the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons has been here the past two days going over with Grand Secretary Drewry the showing of progress of Masonry in this state for the past year preparatory for the assembling of the grand lodge here January 10. He finds the progress for the year most gratifying. The biggest thing to be reported to the grand lodge will be the progress on the Home for Aged and Infirm Masons. This is located at Greensboro, which city gives the 25 acre site and $5,000. The erection of the main building is to be gotten under way during the next year. Over $10.000 of the money is already in sight. There is the remarkable two-year record of health in the Masonic Orphanage at Oxford that not a death has occurred and the average sickness among 350 children from all walks of life been only 2 minutes to each child. The capacity of the orphanage is taxed and there is a pressing demand Grand Master Hackett says, for additional room.

A call has been extended by the congregation of the First Baptist church of this city, to Rev. T. W. O'Kelly, D. D., of St. Joseph, Mo., to become pastor of the church here. He is now pastor of the First church, of St. Joseph. He is a Georgian by birth and is reputed to be one of the most able of Southern Baptist ministers. It is said that there is a strong probability that he will accept the Raleigh call.

There came from the governor of South Carolina to the governor of North Carolina today a requisition for Earl Rankin who is wanted in Spartanburg, S. C., as an escaped convict. He is under arrest in Cleveland county, this state. The requisition was promptly honored.

It has been found necessary to carry the negro girl, Bessie Gregory sentenced by Judge Connor to three years in the Nashville prison for breaking into the postoffice at Stovall, Granville county, all the way to Lancing, Kansas, to serve her term. Deputy Marshal Ward arrived in Nashville with her Wednesday and found that the government prison there had been discontinued and the department of justice instructed him to take her on to Lancing.

Prohibition leaders here are insisting that the Legislature must, when it meets in January, "catch up the loophole" in the state prohibition law developed last evening in the opinion of the Supreme Court in the Colonial Club case, Charlotte, in which the court reverses the $500 fine of Judge Long against the club for holding it in discriminate storage and dispensing to members through coupon book system beer or other intoxicants—co-operative barrooms as Chief Justice Clark and Justice Hoke term them in dissenting opinions. Prohibitionists are claiming that as long as the majority opinion of the court stands as the law in this state the prohibition law is not worth the paper it is written on.

The second day of the hearing of the case against the Standard Oil Co. on the charge of cutting prices of kerosene in Raleigh to drive out competition in violation of the North Carolina anti-trust law was characterized by evidence of dealers to show cuts and prove that The Standard would cut and competitors would then drop to meet lower prices. There was also evidence of consumers offered by state to prove that the plea of different grades of oil by the Standard is a subtifuge to cover price cutting. Consumers testified that in using oil no difference in a luminosity could be observed as different grades were used. The agent of the Indian Oil Co., principal competitor of the Standard here, testified to being forced to lower prices to meet Standard cuts and of ruinous condition of prices now with kerosene down to 7 1-4 cents.

FARMERS CLOSE ANNUAL MEETING

Only Two Sessions Held Yesterday.

Co-Operative Work Discussed by Prominent Members of Union—Most Beneficial Meeting in History of Organization—Number of Farmers Entertained At Luncheon by Normal Students—Resolutions of Thanks.

What was declared by every farmer to have been the most beneficial meeting in the history of the North Carolina Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union came to a close yesterday afternoon and the afternoon and night trains were crowded with delegates and visiting farmers returning home. A number remained until this morning, but the majority left last night.

Only two sessions were held yesterday, the time being taken up with the reports of the several committees and the discussions that followed the presentation of the reports. The report of greatest public interest was the one presented by the committee on co-operation. The report showed conclusively that next to education co-operation was the most essential feature of the organization. The farmers were urged to co-operate in every possible way. It was recommended that county warehouses be established whereever practical and an agent be placed in charge, this warehouse to be used in distribution of articles purchased in bulk, such as fertilizers, etc., and as a salesroom for farm products. It is believed by prominent farmers that in a few years everything purchased by farmers will be secured through such an agency and practically all products sold by the farmers will pass through the same channel.

The interest taken in the work has greatly increased during the past year as the attendance of farmers, other than delegates, upon the sessions demonstrated. There were about three hundred of the delegates, while it was estimated that fully that number of interested farmers were in attendance at all sessions, making an attendance of about six hundred. As was stated yesterday morning the principal subjects considered were education and co-operation. It is the aim of the union to ultimately have agriculture taught in all the rural schools and have in connection with the larger schools experiment farms managed by capable instructors. The leaders in the work say the time is not far distant when the educational work will be more concentrated than at present; that is there will be fewer, but larger and better schools with means of transporting the children to and from the schools.

The union will have representatives at the coming session of the legislature to urge the passage of the bill regarding the provision for agricultural high schools and for more adequate provision for the educational institutions of the state. The representatives will also examine all legislation affecting farmers and will use their influence against any bill that will be detrimental to the farming interests in the state with the same energy that will be spent in espousing legislation of a favorable nature.

The sessions of the union, with the exception of Wednesday night's session, were held at the State Normal College and the farmers were loud and sincere in their praise of the hospitality of the institution. Before adjourning suitable resolutions of thanks were passed. The citizens generally were also thanked for the courtesies shown the members of the union.

Yesterday afternoon the Normal students entertained a number of the farmers at an informal luncheon. This feature was one of the most enjoyable of the entire session and every man present declared himself as most fortunate in being permitted to be present on this occasion. The refreshments were prepared by the young ladies themselves and it demonstrated beyond a doubt that they were receiving practical instruction in domestic science at the institution.

THE FINAL DAY OF POULTRY SHOW

Many School Children Guests of Association Yesterday—The Prize Winners Will Be Announced Today—Event a Success.

The Guilford County Poultry Show closed its most prosperous exhibition last night.

Yesterday was school day, and there was a large attendance from among the school children, especially those attending the rural schools. One little girl said that she had plenty of chickens at home, but she reckoned they'd look sick when she got back from seeing so many large nice ones at the show. Two children entered, asked to see the hen with the little chicks. They were directed up to the window, where they stood for a few moments, when one said, "Huh, I don't see any biddies." The other said, "No; you can't see them now; the hen is nursing them."

The work of completing the lists of prize winners has been most difficult, because of the fact that the birds on exhibition were, almost without a single exception, about as nearly perfect in relative size and condition as it was possible to have them. So that it will not be known until today what the percentages are and who are the winners of cash prizes.

It is most certain that Greensboro's exhibitors will take most of the larger prizes, due largely to the fact that they have profited by the training and enthusiasm of last sean and have made more of a specialty of poultry raising. However, in some few cases the contest between the locals and out-of-town exhibitors will be close.

WALL TO PENITENTIARY

In United States Court yesterday morning Judge Boyd sentenced Marion Wall, who was convicted on Wednesday on the charge of illcit distilling, to the United States prison at Atlanta for a term of one year and one day. A fine of $100 was imposed also. James Watson, who was tried on the same charge, was found not guilty.

Watson was also tried on the charge of resisting an officer while in the discharge of his duty, but the jury could not agree on a verdict and a mistrial was ordered. Wall is also charged with a like offense.

The jurors have been excused until further notice. An adjourned term will be held in January, at which the Glenn Williams libel case will be taken up. The date will be decided on later.

Friday afternoon in United States bankruptcy court John B. Lemmons, merchant, of Belmont, was adjudged a bankrupt on his own petition. Indebtedness $1,000, assets nominal. Compton & Squires, of Burlington, were ordered to appear on Dec. 24 to show cause why they should not be adjudged bankrupt, a petition having been filed. J. H. Vernon was appointed temporary receiver, bond being fixed at $1,000.

THE OPENING OF THE SOUTHBOUND

Celebrated in Grand Style in Winston.

Thousands Participate In Formal Celebration of Opening of New Railroad Into Twin City—Special Trains Bring Visitors Into City — Enthusiastic Speeches—Banquet Last Night.

Winston-Salem, Dec. 15.—With appropriate exercises that were attended by thousands of visitors from towns all along the line the completion and opening of the Southbound Railroad was formally celebrated today.

It was indeed a gala occasion. The Twin-City was decorated with bunting, banners and flags and the latch string was on the outside. No effort was spared to provide a good time for and to assist the visitors in enjoying themselves. It was "open house," there being special committees at each of the mammoth factories to show visitors over the plants.

Special trains were used to bring in visitors from stations along the new road and reduced rates were in vogue over all lines leading into the city.

Never before has there been such a crowd of humanity in the city. The streets and public buildings were rammed and jammed and running over. And the occasion was enjoyed to the fullest extent. The home folks united in the move and everybody was made to feel perfectly at home.

The first train over the Southbound Railroad arrived here at 12:30 this afternoon and brought a crowd estimated at 400 or more. This special came from Southmont. Lexington sent a delegation of about 200. Cotton Grove, Welcome and Eller's were the other stations that sent many representatives.

The second train arrived shortly before 2 o'clock carrying about 500 people, including guests, committee, band and a large number of civil engineers who boarded the train at Whitney. The programs, badges, car tickets and invitation cards were distributed and music furnished by the band.

The exercises followed the arrival of the regular passenger train over the new road from Wadesboro after one o'clock. They were held in the Elks' Auditorium and were attended by a notable gathering of home people and visitors, composed of men who represent the very best interests of their respective communities—those things that produce development along industrial and educational lines.

The program opened with an address of welcome by that princely gentleman and the "father" of the Southbound, Col. Frank H. Fries. His remarks were inspiring and they were heard with genuine interest and enjoyment by the large audience that greeted him.

Mayor R. G. Rhett, of Charleston, in his response brought good cheer and glad tidings from "the city by the sea."

Following the exercises at the Auditorium, came the parade by the city and county school children and Tinsley military Institute cadets around the court house square.

At the armory of the Forsyth Riflemen refreshments were served to the visitors from 12:30 to 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Tonight at the Zinzendorf hotel the Board of Trade gave a banquet complimentary to the visitors attending the celebration. About 100 distinguished visitors were present in addition to a large number of representative citizens of the city. A number of toasts were responded to, in which many complimentary remarks were made regarding "the coming city of North Carolina."

Debate At First Baptist Church Tonight.

What promises to be a very interesting debate will be held in the lecture room of the First Baptist church this evening at 8 o'clock. The query is, "Resolved that man has greater intellectual capacity than woman.." The Baraca class, represented by Prof. A. H. King, and Mr. W. M. Combs, will defend the affirmative side; the B. Y. P. U. represented by Mr. D. H. Wilcox and Mr. T. W. Alderman, will defend the negative. The following will act as judges: Mr. C. W. Jennings, Prof. W. C. Jackson and Mr. R. W. Haywood. Public is cordially invited.

SUFFRAGE AIDS MARRIAGE

Baltimore Sun.

Votes for women as an aid to a happy marriage were advocated by Miss Elizabeth Taylor, treasurer of the Just Government League, in addressing the Young Ladies' Benevolent Society at Talmud Hall last night. She spoke in place of Miss Rose Sneider, of New York, who was unable to attend.

The audience was composed almost entirely of women. They were evidently believers in votes for women, and had been pleading with their male friends for support, but met with objections, which they were unable to answer. After the address upon "Suffrage as an Advantage to Working Women," they brought their difficulties and unanswered questions to the speaker for solution.

Miss Taylor had argued that women under the present conditions could not get the same salary as men. One young woman asked, as though she knew whereof she spoke, "If women are not paid as much as men, is it not because they usually have one eye on their work and one eye on a man?"

It was difficult to answer this, for all the girls present laughed and nodded their heads in agreement. Finally the inquirer was told that if women were better paid they would not have to keep one eye on the outlook for a man, but could support themselves. It was here that Miss Taylor launched into a defense of woman's suffrage on the ground that it was conducive to happy marriages, for, she said, husband and wife would have interests in common in talking them over would promote companionship.

"Suppose they don't agree, what a time they would have then," whispered the girls, wise beyond their years.

"Wouldn't the ballots for women make them neglect their household duties?" was asked.

"Yes, but some men in this section have no other job but hanging around the polls and buying votes," was the quick return from a girl who was evidently knew something of politnes as it is.

"Men say women can get anything they want," Miss Taylor declared, "if they will only cry long and loud enough for it. We don't want to cry at all for that which belongs to us. Crying is not pleasant, and besides it is not conducive to beauty or dignity."

One of the lone men in the hall interrupted to ask why suffragists did not make their plea upon the ground that they deserved the ballot and not claim that civil and moral conditions would be improved. He said he believed that women should vote, but he thought there would be no improvement in government and probably for a while things would be a little worse.

Take Care!

Remember that when your kidneys are affected your life is in danger. M. Mayer, Rochester, N. Y., says: "My trouble started with a sharp shooting pain over my back which grew worse daily I felt sluggish and tired, my kidney action was irregular and infrequent. I started using Foley's Kidney Pills. Each dose seemed to put new life and strength into me, and now I am completely cured and feel better and stronger than for years." Howard Gardner.

He Filled the Bill.

The Manager—Can you make quick changes and double in a few parts?

The Actor—Can I? You know the scene in "Love and Lobsters," where the hero and the villain are fighting, and a friend rushes in and separates 'em? Well, I played all three parts one night when the other two fellows were ill.—Toledo Blade.

A Simple Safeguard for Mothers.

Mrs. D. Gilkeson, 326 Ingles Ave., Youngstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat and after using only one bottle her throat and lungs were entirely free from inflammation. Since then I always keep a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar in the house. Accept no substitutes. Howard Gardner.

They Were Not Early Risers.

Get the Genuine Always.

A substitute is a dangerous make shift especially in medicine. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds quickly and is in a yellow package. Accept no substitutes. Howard Gardner.

Somebody Punished.

"We ask that the defendant be placed on probation," said the counsel for the defense.

"But a crime has been committed," objected the court, "and somebody should be punished."

"Well, judge, these jurors have been locked up for nine solid weeks."—Washington Herald.

because it gives the best light of all lamps. The Rayo gives a white, soft, mellow, diffused light—easy on the eye because it cannot flicker. You can use your eyes as long as you wish under the Rayo light without strain.

The Rayo Lamp is low-priced, and even though you pay $5, $10 or $20 for other lamps, you may get more expensive decorations but you cannot get a better light than the low-priced Rayo gives. A PENITENT

By EMMA EDMONDS

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

Mike Conover, burglar, the day before Christmas stood on a sidewalk in a great city and watched the shoppers. On the other side of the street was a large jewelry store, in and out of which throngs of people were going and coming, many of them carrying the goods they had bought rather than risk not getting them before Christmas morning if left to be sent home by the delivery wagon.

Mike was watching for some prosperous looking person to come out of the store, his pockets bulging with small packages—he knew the small ones to be the most valuable—intending to follow him home and during the night relieve him of them. Presently he hit upon an elderly gentleman with mutton chop whiskers and a gold headed cane, who, as he emerged from the store, was cramming the said small packages down into his pocket. Mike followed him, noted the house he entered and went away.

The town clocks were striking one hour after midnight when the burglar bent his steps to the house in question, passed from the front steps on to a balcony, inserted a jimmy under a window sash, pulled out the screws that held the sash, raised it and entered a large drawing room. The Christmas presents were doubtless kept above, so, feeling his way upstairs, he found a hall lighted by a gas jet turned very low. He turned it a trifle higher in order the better to see the way and, looking into an open door, saw two little children asleep with their arms about each other. To the mantel hung two long stockings bulging in every part. On a bureau was a crucifix.

Mike had been brought up a Catholic by an honest, hardworking mother and remembered when a lad quite well grown seeing his little brother and sister, both less than five years old, lying in bed together in this fashion. He remembered it especially because he had just come in with some toys to put into their stockings. The sight took him back to those days when he had not yet gone to the bad, and there came a sinking about his heart. He passed back through a narrow hallway and, opening a door, entered a portion of the house that seemed to be an addition and cut off from the rest. The door had scarcely closed behind him when he heard a low voice say:

Mike started, and his knees trembled beneath him. Whence came the voice—from the ceiling, from under the floor or from behind curtains? It had been years since Mike had gone to mass, much less to confession, and now it seemed to him that he was in a church; that the priest had turned from the altar to the congregation and, spreading his arms in an attitude to bless them, had intoned the Latin words meaning "The Lord be with you."

Then suddenly a woman's voice began to sing that beautiful hymn "Ave Sanctissima" ("Hail, Most Holy Mother"). From the moment Mike heard the first note he began to droop. Gradually he bent almost to the floor, and when the words "Ora pro nobis" ("Pray for us") were sung he sank upon his knees. When the song stopped the penitent was sobbing like a child.

Suddenly a light was turned on behind him. But Mike remained on his knees. He was too overcome by the music to make any resistance.

"What are you doing here?" asked the gentleman Mike had shadowed that day.

"I came to rob you, sir," Mike replied in a hoarse whisper, "but I have been turned from my purpose, first, by your two little children with their hanging stockings and, second, by what I have heard here. Am I dreaming that I am in a church? Is this a dwelling, or have I gone mad?"

"Neither. We are Roman Catholics here, and I have purchased a phonograph as a Christmas present for my wife, who is a very devout woman. It is intended for such. I left it wound, and I suppose something has gone wrong with the machinery and started it up. I heard the singing and came in to shut the thing off."

"I am ready, sir, to go to jail and suffer the punishment I deserve. But never again will I commit a crime. The influence of our holy church and my old mother when I was a boy has been brought back to me tonight to save me from sinking any lower. I am armed, sir, and could kill you in a moment. But fear nothing. Go to your telephone, if you have one in the house, and call the police."

The gentleman stood looking at Mike for some moments without speaking, then said:

"I shall not telephone for the police. The police represent the law. Our church has done what the law can never do. The law can only punish; the church has brought a sinner to repentance. Go your way, and tomorrow, if you will call at my place of business, I will give you work."

Mike is now earning an honest living and hangs stockings for his own children on Christmas eve. But he is never comfortable in presence of a phonograph. Somehow it connects him with a past that distresses him and which he wishes to forget.

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ—which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

In that Supreme Court decision the majority seems to have been guided by the principle of tweedledum and tweedledee, while the other justices just took the ordinary common-sense view.

Guilford county has 672 square miles. The promoters of the new county ask for only about 50 square miles. So far as area goes they are modest enough in their desires.

The periodical report that this country is unprepared for war has been given currency in Washington again, this time by Secretary of War Dickinson and General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army. It is the same old war scare, disguising the same old yearning to raid the treasury.

Col. Roosevelt says he is a conservative radical. Sure. He is a radical where the insurgents predominate and a conservative where the standpatters are in the majority. What else is to be expected of a consummate politician than that he should be on both sides of the fence?

Granting it to be true that the country is poorly defended as is claimed by the military and naval bureaucracy in Washington, why is it necessary to keep on building expensive battleships, seeing that after following a settled policy of long years' standing of building two or more battleships a year, the country finds itself now, as alleged, still poorly defended? Battleships are dreadfully expensive and if the apostles of war just must keep busy at something in their particular line, let them, for the sake of economy make fortifications rather than dreadnaughts their hobby.

High Point's petition and memorial for the new county constitute a very readable and plausible document. We will say in this connection that our neighbor has entered into the proposition for a new county with a zest and determination that are thoroughly praiseworthy. For the information of The Telegram's readers the petition and memorial for the new county is printed herewith:

To the Senators and Members of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of North Carolina 1911.

We, the undersigned voters living within the territory embraced in the proposed new county to be known as ———— County, petition your Honorable body to grant us an act providing for the creation of this county at this session, and beg to call your attention to a few of the many valid reasons, in our opinion, for the establishment of this county.

Counties are agents of the state for governmental purposes and through them justice is administered, revenue collected and the local police rendered effective. They are the vitals of the state; their inefficiency her paralysis. They constitute the machinery and essential agencies by which the free governments are derived formed and modeled upon, the representative and popular features of the English constitution are upheld—and through which—for the most part, their powers are exercised. The foregoing definition being of judicial origin we submit that the twelve to fifteen thousand representative citizens of North Carolina residing in and near the thriving city of High Point should not be hindered in the performance of their civil and political duties and obligatons by having to travel from fifteen to twenty miles to Greensboro, involving as it does, an immense outlay of time and money. The same inconveniences apply to a large number of people now residents of the county of Randolph who live two to four miles of the city of High Point and have to travel from twenty-five to thirty miles to their county seat. Just so with a large number of people who now live within the county of Davidson, who, while living within three to five miles of the city of High Point, have to travel eighteen to twenty miles to Lexington. The agitation for this new county is not new, but has been pressed with more or less vigor for twenty-five or thirty years, increasing each year as the proposed territory has increased in population, wealth and industries.

The constitution of our State guarantees that every person for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person or reputation shall have remedy by due course of law and right and justice without sale, denial or delay. The congestion in the courts of Guilford county has become a matter of state-wide knowledge and denies our people this constitutional guarantee. No action of the Legislature heretofore taken has relieved this congestion, the docket at this time being from one to two years behind in its work. These are only a few among the most important reasons why we ask for the county of ————

In conclusion we would remind you that there has not been a new county created by the Legislature that did not result in enriching the state without injuring those counties out of which the new county was created.

Death of Aged Lady.

Mrs. Mary A. Amos died yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at the home of her son, Mr. J. T. Amos, 3 Cedar street, White Oak. She was 72 years of age and is survived by six sons and five daughters. The remains will be taken on the 9:25 train to Chatham, Va., where the interment will be made.

Piano Recitals At Normal.

This afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Normal College the piano pupils of Miss Eugenia Harris will give their term recital. On Saturday morning at 10 o'clock Mrs. Albright's piano pupils will give their term recital. The recitals will be open to the public.

Rolling Cigars.

It is common to hear men complain of poorly made cigars, but it is not always because a cigar is indifferently or badly made that the wrapper curls up and comes off. Much oftener this comes from the cigar having been rolled by a maker's left hand and later smoked from the hand of a right handed man. All cigarmakers must use both hands equally well, and economy both in time and material is the prevailing rule in tobacco factories. When a piece of tobacco is cut for the wrapper it is cut on the bias and rolled from left to right on the filler, and at the same time and by the other hand the remaining pieces are used, being necessarily rolled in the opposite way. For this reason the man who holds a cigar in his right hand, which always gives a few twists during the course of a smoke, rubs the wrapper the wrong way, and easily enough it becomes loosened.—Chicago Tribune.

Magna Charta and the Bill of Rights.

Historically speaking, there is a big difference between the Magna Charta and the bill of rights. The first was obtained by the barons from King John at Runnymede in June, 1215, the other by the lords and commons from the Prince and Princess of Orange in 1688-89.

Magna Charta will ever remain the greatest landmark in the constitutional history of England, but next to the great charter wrung from John by the barons must stand the bill of rights that was so graciously acceded to by King William.—New York American.

The Olfactory Test.

It may appear a whimsical theory that the successful grocery store can be detected by its odors, and yet there is this much truth in it—namely, that the grocery store which greets the nostrils with a certain glorious combination of odors of coffee, tea and spices is almost always a paying investment. —Ideal Grocer.

Secrets of Comfort.

Though sometimes small evils, like invisible insects, inflict pain and a single hair may stop a vast machine, yet the chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex one and in prudently cultivating an undergrowth of small pleasures, since very few great ones, alas, are let on long leases.

The Practical Man.

Our idea of a practical man is one who would rather have a ten cent cigar given to him than a five center named for him.—Dallas News.

Truth is of no value unless it is exemplified in conduct.

IN PRISON YEARS; INNOCENT

Another Man Said To Have Confessed Murder on Death Bed.

Pittsburg, Dec. 15.—After serving 20 years of a life sentence for murder, of which he protested his innocence, Andrew Toth, 68 years old, will probably be pardoned.

A son of the prisoner, who was 13 months old when his father was convicted and sentenced to be hanged, has secured a supposed deathbed confession by a man of the same name as the prisoner, which is now in the hands of attorneys. Stephen Toth, whose wife says he admitted the crime, lives in Austria.

The murder, that of Michael Quinn, a foreman of the Edgar Thomson blast furnaces, was committed on New Year's Day, 1891, at Braddock during a strike riot. Two companions of the prisoner, who were also sentenced to death, but whose sentences were commuted to life imprisonment, have been released and have died.

The Laymen's Meeting.

The Laymen's experience meeting, decided on last Sunday, will be held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Centenary Methodist church. The missionary committees of the several churches are urged to attend and give their experiences of the past year and all laymen are most cordially invited.

DEATH OF NOTED GEORGIAN

Major Jno. F. Hanson Dies Unexpectedly—Heart Failure the Cause.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 15.—Major John F. Hanson, president of the Central of Georgia Railroad and one of the best known railroad officials in the South, died here this morning about 7 o'clock of heart failure. His death was entirely unexpected.

Major John F. Hanson was one of the biulders of the new South, a pioneer in the hardships and triumphs which following the war slowly transformed this section of the country from an impoverished land into a community of vast potential wealth. He was a type of self-made man of the South, the firmness developed in half a century's business battles being tempered with open handed generosity in money matters.

Major Hanson was born in Monroe county, Georgia, on November 25, 1840. At the outbreak of the war he enlisted with the Spalding Grays at Griffin, Ga., winning promotions until three years later he had become adjutant of the 53d Georgia infantry. He was breveted major. After the war he entered business at Barnesville, Ga., as a drug clerk but soon left the employe class to become an employer, making the step up the business ladder by a bold stroke.

Although a confederate, Major Hanson was a Republican in politics. For the six years beginning with 1881 he took an active part in newspaper work as principal owner of a Macon, Ga., paper.

Major Hanson was apparently in good health when he left his office yesterday evening, but during the night he complained of indigestion and Dr. W. S. Goldsmith was summoned and he was relieved sufficiently to fall into a restful sleep.

About 5 o'clock this morning he was seized with another attack, however, and Dr. Goldsmith was again called in. As the physician entered the room Mr. Hanson spoke to him and turning over on his side, expired before being able to utter another word.

His brother, I. N. Hanson, of this city, was the only member of the family present at the time of death. The body will be taken to the Hanson home at Macon, Ga., tomorrow, but the funeral arrangements will depend on the arrival of his daughter, Mrs. R. Y. Garrett, from Baltimore.

TAR HEEL REPUBLICANS GATHER IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Dec. 15.—Things are eventuating every minute in Tar Heel Republican circles today. Several leaders of the Butler-Morehead faction are here in response to telegrams and have achieved a flying wedge formation for the descent this afternoon on the White House. Judge Bynum, David Blair, Thomas Settle, Claud Bernard, Dr. Mott, Harry Skinnerr, Jake Newell and others going to see President Taft in the hope of getting their bearings and to protest against the continued operation of the Duncan influence in party patronage matters in the state.

Morehead is mad up to the present writing. He has hardly been able to turn a wheel.

Many Shoppers Come Here.

Those who do not watch the outgoing afternoon trains have no idea of the number of visitors that come to Greensboro to do their Christmas shopping. Each afternoon train carries from the city passengers bearing bundles and packages purchased here. The schedules are so arranged that people from all the nearby towns can come here in the morning, make their purchases and return home during the afternoon.

Death of Infant.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kirkman died yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of its parents, Peach street, Proximity. The remains will be interred in the Proximity cemetery this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

THE COUNTY HOTEL.

Unless Institution Is More Liberally Patronized It Will Not Pay Expenses.

The county hotel is about to go into bankruptcy and unless guests patronize the institution more liberally it will not long pay expenses. Mine Host Apple has but ten regular guests at present and all have signified their intention of leaving shortly, with three exceptions. Two contend they can get better lodging in the federal prison at Atlanta and will leave for that city in a few days. Three who declared that Rockingham could not afford a county hotel are whiling their time away in the city. Two guests are sick, the hotel being also in the nature of a sanatorium at which the employees of Captain Tyson recuperate. Mine Host Apple has one guest which he is concerned no little as the man is in a demented state.

Superior Court is largely responsible for the lack of guests at the institution, Judge Lyon having instructed ten of them to join Capt. Tyson on a road scouting expedition and five went to the country home of C. M. Glass, east of the county home, to partake of and assist in the Christmas festivities.

SPENT MORE FOR BEER THAN ON HIS WIFE

Atlanta, Dec. 15.—Because her husband allowed her but 5 cents a day for her expenses and spent a dollar and a half a day for beer for himself, Mrs. Tillie Jeffries complained to the police that she and her baby were not properly cared for.

Young Jeffries, the husband, when arraigned in the recorder's court on a charge of non-support, exhibited a diary in which he had set down in business fashion the household and personal expenses. The entries showed that he did not stint himself in the matter of beer and pool. One day he played 70 games of pool and drank 20 glasses of beer. The largest sum charged against his wife was a quarter for carfare, although he blandly informed the recorder that once he had bought a bottle of medicine for the baby. Recorder Broyles ordered Jeffries to pay his wife $3 a week for her support and placed him under the guardianship of the probation officer.

A LARGE CONTRACT

When Howard Gardner, the enterprising druggist, first offered a 50 cent package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, and guaranteed to return the money if it did not cure, he thought it probable from his experience with other medicines for the disease, that he would have a good many packages returned. But although he has sold hundreds of bottles, not one has been brought back.

To those suffering with dizziness, headache, poor digestion, constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific offers quick relief. It is an invaluable boon to all who feel unfomfortable after eating, and is today the popular dinner pill in all the large cities.

DIAMOND IN THIS TURKEY

Now Mrs. Norwood Wonders if Santa Sent it to Her.

Baltimore Sun.

When is a turkey not a turkey? When it's a diamond mine, says Mrs. Lewis Nodwood and her cat, Blacky, both of 1819 East North avenue.

Mrs. Norwood went to Broadway Market Saturday night to buy a turkey for Sunday. She selected one, but having an idea that she might do better elsewhere, she went to another stall, where she says she found nothing but geese. Returning to the first stall she found the one remaining turkey was the same that had first struck her fancy.. She took it home.

Sunday morning after cleaning the turkey, she was about to throw away that part that wasn't to be cooked, when the plaintive cries of Blacky, her cat, aroused her sympathies, and rescuing the gizzard, she gave it to the cat. She put the turkey in the stove and was cleaning up the remnants of her pet's repast, when she noticed something bright. She picked it up and found a fair-sized diamond, which had successfully resisted the ravages of the fowl's digestive apparatus. A nearby jeweler placed its value at $50.

Mrs. Norwood says the turkey tasted just the same as any other. Considering the queer way she acquired the diamond, the many chances it had to miss her, she thinks it must have been sent her by Santa Claus.

COOKE PRAISED AS A POLITICAL CAPTAIN

News and Observer Pays Tribute To the Chairmen of the Fifth, Eighth and Tenth Congressional Districts.

Wednesday's News and Observer has an article on the three young men who as Democratic chairmen of their districts directed in the last election the campaigns redeeming three districts which went Republican two years ago. These young men are A. Wayland Cooke of Greensboro; Hayden Clement, of Salisbury and Owen Gudger, of Asheville. Of Mr. Cooke the News and Observer says, accompanying its remarks with a good likeness of Mr. Cooke:

"It was a glorious victory in the Fifth District which resulted in the election of Maj. Charles M. Stedman to Congress. In the campaign the captain of the Democracy was Mr. A. Wayland Cooke, the chairman of the Democratic executive committee of the district who was the leader in the fight which redeemed the district in the magnificent victory. He did splendid work.

"Mr. Cooke is a member of the Greensboro bar, at which he has attained a high position since his location in Grensboro in 1900, when he began practice after graduating at Wake Forest College. At that institution he took high position as an orator, in debates and as a thorough student. In 1900 he won the Dixon medal for oratory. Upon his graduation the college conferred on him the degree of A. B., A. M., and L. L. B. In Greensboro, he has been one of its most public spirited citizens, active in the interests of the city, and taking an active part in politics. He has been a member of the State Democratic executive committee, and chairman of the County Board of Elections. He is a native of Murfreesboro, and throughout the state is held in high esteem as one of its best citizens.

"Called to the chairmanship of the Congressional executive committee of the Fifth district, he kept up his hard work, and was an active force in the redeeming of the district to Democracy. He laid his plans well and never faltered in the fight. Though a young man he showed the wisdom of years in the campaign, and in the face of the greatest opposition and of the active work of Republican State Chairman J. Motley Morehead, he led to victory, proving resourceful and able. In his fight he made radical changes in the district and changed a Republican plurality of 350 and majority of 108 to a Democratic plurality of 3,382 and a majority of 3,145, making gains in the votes cast in every county except Caswell and Granville, each of which gave good majorities. He regained many counties. The radical changes were especially in the counties of Alamance, Durham, Guilford, Rockingham and Surry, and there were gains in other counties. In 1908 Alamance was lost by 37 votes, while this year it was regained by 312 votes. In 1908 Durham was won by 20 votes, this year by 682 votes, a change of 672 votes. In 1908 Orange was lost by 64 votes; this year it was regained by 230, a change of 294 votes. In 1908 Person was lost by 180 votes; this year it was regained by 66 votes, a change of 249 votes. Stokes was lost in 1908 by 681 votes, and this year there was a gain of 268 votes. In 1908 Surry went Republican by one thousand and one majority; this year the Republican majority was reduced to 536 votes. The largest gain was in Rockingham county, lost in 1908 by 213, carried this year by 649 votes, a change to Democracy of 862 votes, making Rockingham the banner county in the district.

"Mr. Cooke is a political fighter who studies and works. He made a fight that aroused the State, and the success of his management of the campaign was pronounced. He kept at the work and the majority in the district is proof that he knew what to do."

J. W. Greer, Greenwood, La., suffered with a severe case of lumbago. "The pains were so intense I was forced to hypodermic injections for relief. These attacks started with a pain in the small of my back which gradually became fairly paralyzing. The CRADDOCK SHOE

The dollar for dollar value of the Craddock Shoe is one of the surprises in the shoe trade. That is why we took up the line. In all our experience we have never known a shoe that could compare with the Craddock no matter how we looked at it—more style, more wear, better leather at a price that other makers admit to us they cannot meet. Others have offered us shoes to retail at the same price but we can't afford to offer you less wear and comfort and style when we know the Craddock is the best value in the world for the money.

You'll go far and fare worse many many times before you'll find the equal of the Craddock Shoe. We will put our time against yours for a fit—We're ready whenever you are.

All Leathers $3.50 and $4.00

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM

It Is An Internal Disease And Requires An Internal Remedy.

The cause of rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. RUBBING with oils and Liniments WILL NOT CURE, affords only temporary relief at best, causes you to delay the proper treatment, and allows the malady to get a firmer hold on you. Liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure Rheumatism than paint will change the fiber of rotten wood.

Science has at last discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called Rheumacide. Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide gets at the joints from the inside, sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the liver and kidneys and makes you well all over. Rheumacide strikes the root of the disease and removes its cause. This splendid remedy is sold by druggists and dealers generally at 50c. and $1 a bottle. In Tablet form at 25c. and 50c. a package. Write to Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md. Booklet free. Tablets sent by mail.

For sale by Howard Gardner, Druggist.

HOW TO CURE ECZEMA.

ITCH AND ALL SKIN DISEASES

Don't suffer a moment longer with Eczema, or any form of skin or blood troubles. Don't scratch or rub the skin. Just apply Hancock Sulphur Compound to the affected spots and it will stop the itching at once, and cure the trouble permanently. One 50c bottle will cure that prevalent trouble, Common Itch. Nothing cures skin troubles so quickly as Hancock Sulphur Compound. To beautify the complexion and remove black heads and pimples, use Hancock Sulphur Ointment, 25c. Mrs. Evelyn Garst, of Salem, Va., writes: "Three years ago I had a rough place on my cheek, it would burn and itch. I was fearful it might be of a cancerous nature. I used different preparations, but nothing ever helped it. One bottle of Sulphur Compound cured me completely. I recommend it to any one having any skin disease." For sale by Howard Gardner, Greensboro, N. C.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

MAKING THE BEST OF ILLNESS.

Suggestions About the Acceptance of Attentions and Holding Interest.

London Chronicle.

Eevryone has to be ill, now and again, and, as the unpleasant circumstance exists, a wise woman will study how to make the best of it. There is a certain charm about illness which, if carefully brought out, will make the invalid a pleasure to her friends and will herself a certain satisfaction which not even the worst attack of influenza can destroy.

Remember not to talk too much about your symptoms. There are a few people in the world—your mother, sister, husband or lover—who will really want to know exactly how your head feels and what kind of a night you had. But the average visitor, though he asks these questions out of politeness does not care particularly for the answers, and if you embark on a long list of ailments you will run the risk of boring him and making yourself more depressed than ever. If he has any amount of observation, he will easily see whether you are better or worse and will pity or congratulate you accordingly without waste of words.

Try not to lose your interest in everyday matters, though you may be cut off from them for the time. Sick people are very apt to get a little out of date; their horizon is, for the time, bounded by the walls of one room. But those who come to them, fresh from the outer world and full of all sorts of plans and excitements, will not readily understand their lack of interest in these things. If you can take a real, hearty interest in your friend's new hat or latest business triumph you will not only gratify her but you will do yourself good, for the change of thought will be as refreshing to you as a change of air.

Don't fight too much against illness, and try to go on in your every-day ways, regardless of the fact that you have no strength for them. Very many people who are usually well and active resent illness almost as a degradation. They won't consent to be waited on; they won't consent to let others think and work for them. "Oh, I can't bear to have you doing this for me!" they say to some friend who is kindly trying to help them. Remember that nearly everyone has sufficient kindliness to be glad of a chance of rendering service to a friend, and don't spoil their unselfish pleasure in waiting on you by keeping up a constant fire of laments that the service should be necessary.

One last hint, intended specially for women, is—don't neglect your appearance. Because you are ill, that is no reason why you should wear unbecoming clothes, scrape all your hair back from your forehead and forget to manicure your nails. If you are too ill to attend to details of personal daintiness, there will surely be someone who will take them in hand for you.

Saved From Awful Death.

How an appalling calamity in his family was prevented is told by A. D. McDonald, of Fayetteville, N. C. R. F. D. No. 8. "My sister had consumption," he writes, "she was very thin and pale, had no appetitie and seemed to grow weaker every day, as all remedies failed, till Dr. King's New Discovery was tried, and so completely cured her, that she has not been troubled with a cough since. Its the best medicine I ever saw or heard of." For coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhage-all bronchial troubles, it has no equal, 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Hoax—"Bjones has started a correspondence school of pugilism." Joax—"Has he had any experience?" Hoax—"Well, I believe he used to work in a box factory."

Wants To Help Some One.

For thirty years J. F. Boyer, of Fertile, Mo., needed help and couldn't find it. That's why he wants to help some one now. Suffering so long himself he feels for all distress from Backache, Nervousness, Loss of Appetite, Lassitude and Kidney disorders. He shows that Electric Bitters work wonders for such troubles. "Five bottles," he writes, "wholly cured me and now I am well and hearty." It's also positively guaranteed for Liver Trouble, Dyspepsia, Blood Disorders, Female Complaints and Malaria. Try them. 50c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup, bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. It contains no opiates. Howard Gardner.

Blobbs—"Wigwag tells me he is selling alarm clocks." Slobbs—"Doing a rousing business I suppose."

It is really wonderful how quickly Vick's Croup and Pneumonia Salve breaks up a cold, croup or pneumonia symptoms. Just rub it on. Keep a jar ready.

"WHICH FAT?"

Any product which contains hog fat is subject to the taint or possibility of disease germs. Lard is made from hog fat—it may be pure and it may not. At any rate, it is at best indigestible, and will raise havoc with any but the hardiest stomach.

Cottolene is a vegetable product, which is far superior to lard for all shortening and frying purposes. It is an absolutely pure and healthful fat made from cotton oil.

Cottolene is a product of nature and is bound to be wholesome. It is the one dependable, healthful product for frying and shortening, and is carefully inspected and made to conform with all pure food laws.

Mr. W. F. Low, of the firm of Low Bros., South Elm street, on Tuesday made a very important real estate deal when he purchased the "Old Tucker homsetead," four miles south of the city, and the mill property adjoining, known as the J. P. Hoffmann mill. The consideration for the entire estate was $9,500. He intends to install new machinery in the mill and put it into operation; this will be done in the near future.

Mr. Low is among the enterprising young merchants of South Greensboro, and has been very successful.
